Landmark Information
There is a development risk in the vicinity of the property address given. The likelihood of this site being developed is medium/high. Development of site 1 may impact the subject property. We believe that any lender involved in this transaction should be notified of the potential for development.

Please note: Sites identified as suitable for development may not be under current planning policy. As planning policies evolve or change, further development opportunities or risks may arise. They may also remove sites from being vulnerable to development.

This report is a prediction of where development may take place, but it cannot be guaranteed what will or will not occur in the future.

Searches undertaken to compile this report:
1. Professional analysis of Ordnance Survey to identify development opportunities
2. A desk top inspection of the aerial maps over the identified area
3. Birdseye rotational inspection of the surrounding area (where available)
4. Inspection of the Local Plan / LDF
5. Study of attached planning report to establish which major applications may affect the searched property.

The choices this report presents

This report seeks to establish the development opportunities that exist within a 75m radius of the property you propose to purchase. You can use this information to decide whether to buy the property, conscious of what may happen in the future. Your property may sit within a conservation area and, as such, any development may not be favourably looked upon. It may sit next to green belt that is vulnerable to rezoning for development. It may be next to some large gardens that have development potential. Perhaps the property you propose to buy could itself have an involvement in a development with great financial benefit to you. It may of course have none of the above and you have bought some peace of mind that your home and the surrounding area are unlikely to change in the near future.

Please note that identified sites may not be developed because the landowners will not sell, or for any other reason that could make the development unviable. Some policies change more frequently than governments. All you can do is make an informed decision by assessing the risk and this report will help, by informing you which areas of the locality may change in the future.

Finally, please note that we cannot identify single dwellings that are replaced with a more substantial dwelling than the existing. These one for one replacements are generally not economic. When there is a buyer with a special interest, however, the economics are sometimes not considered relevant. Equally, some properties may be converted into flats, which again is almost impossible to predict.

Planning is a subject where you can never say 'never'! There may always be situations when planning permission is considered acceptable.

Next Steps

You may wish to discuss the findings of this report with your legal adviser.

If you have any development or valuation questions arising from this report, or would like to investigate any aspect in greater depth, specialist advice is available on request. The table above provides minimum density guidance only. Please note, densities can be greater or lower on some sites. City centre locations will demand higher densities. The above is designed to guide you in how many dwellings may be built on those identified sites that do not yet have planning history.

The attached planning report shows no major planning applications that will affect the searched property. The risk of householder extensions and improvements will always be present.

Site 1 has been assessed through the Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment (SHLAA) process as a potential location for development. The site was found to be suitable for development. This indicates that planning permission could be granted in the future. The site can be considered a medium / high risk of development. If developed the site may have a negative impact on the subject property. If development was to be attempted on this site and you were not supportive we would recommend you request more detailed reports on the application site title from your solicitor. Whilst this would reasonably incur an extra legal fee it may uncover a covenant that may control the development potential of any site. It is our belief that development on this site could impact the value, or future marketability, of the subject property. If the property is to be purchased with a mortgage we strongly recommend that this is referred to the valuer.

Local Planning Policy
The land is zoned within the settlement/urban area of Breckland District Council. Development is presumed acceptable when within the settlement, subject to it conforming to development control policies and standards.

Development Potential of the Subject Property
The subject property has no development potential. Householder improvements and extensions may still be permitted.

Planning Applications in the Immediate Area
The attached planning report shows no major planning applications that will affect the searched property. The risk of householder extensions and improvements will always be present.

Summary of Immediate Area

What is DevAssess?
DevAssess is a unique report that contains information about current and historic planning applications together with a professional opinion about future development opportunities within a 75m radius of a property address, and other local neighbourhood information. It is of particular help in urban areas or where you want to know or are concerned about the risk of any potential future development nearby that could materially affect the enjoyment, view from or value of your intended purchase.

How is the professional opinion reached?
It is reached following an Ordnance Survey desk top search and by using land identification techniques and skills that developers use to identify development opportunities. DevAssess is produced by a team of residential property consultants who are all land buyers with extensive experience identifying where developers will want to prospect. They are trained in land assembly and the planning system, which gives them a tremendous insight into what can and can’t be developed.

Is this just guesswork?
No. The consultants diagnose where the risk of development exists. Their experience in the house building industry and extensive knowledge of the planning system gives them the skills to assess what land developers will want to buy.

How accurate is this report?
Whilst every care has been taken in the formation of this report the accuracy of it must be taken in the spirit that it has been written. It is a prediction of where development may take place. We cannot guarantee what will or will not occur in the future. As planning policies and density standards change this may remove or create further areas of development that could not have been foreseen at the time this report was commissioned. It has been written in good faith to provide better information to buyers who would not otherwise understand the planning system or where development may take place. We cannot of course know which land owners will sell to developers, or if at all. This report is based on our professional opinion of development opportunities within the vicinity of the property. Please note though that it is a prediction of where development may take place and does not, in any way, guarantee what will or will not occur in the future. Please refer to the ‘Useful Information’ section for details of other data sources used to produce this report.

Hasn’t all the land been developed in urban areas?
No. This is a myth. On average 50-60% of housing land comes from windfall developments within existing urban areas. There are still huge areas of land yet to be developed and, due to a chronic housing shortage, the need to identify land for development is expected to increase further over the next few years. It is inevitable that urban areas will continue to shoulder the vast majority of that burden.

What will this report show that can’t be found in a local authority search?
Apart from road and rail information, a local authority search is restricted to past planning and building regulation history of the property itself. DevAssess considers current and historic planning applications within the boundaries of the property and in the wider area. It is the only report that also identifies where future development may take place.

What will this report show that can’t be found in a planning report?
Whilst a planning report considers current and historic planning information, DevAssess is the only report that considers the future, i.e., identifies potential opportunities that a developer would also be looking for that do not yet have relevant planning history.

What will not be shown in the report?
The report will not identify large buildings that, due to their condition or scale, may be suitable for conversion or replaced with another structure that is made up of flats or split vertically. It will not identify one for one replacements, extensions or home improvements. The report does not forecast when developments will take place; it identifies where they might.

How likely is it that development will occur that wasn’t identified in the report?
Planning policies do change. When this happens, some areas of development will be opened up that were not previously accessible. Generally this only happens over a 5 year period. As such, a DevAssess report is useful for the average stay in a property.

Why don’t all planning applications appear on the map?
If there are several planning applications within close proximity of each other, the plan may show these as a single point of reference within a red polygon.

Are there any other benefits in obtaining a DevAssess Search?
Yes. It could indicate some hidden value in an intended purchase, although further advice may be required to provide a better understanding of any value that may exist in the property or any covenants it may benefit from.
Important Note on Planning Data

The following comprehensive list of applications is harvested planning data that is supplied by either Landmark Information Group or Groundsure. DevAssist use this information as part of their investigations.

The data is purchased upon your behalf so that DevAssist consultants can investigate the area surrounding the subject property. As this information is provided by a third party DevAssist cannot guarantee its accuracy or its completeness.

Planning Applications

Section 1

Understanding This Section

Development in the UK is controlled by the government's planning legislation, which is regulated and enforced by your local authority planning department. In Section 1 of this report, we have included planning applications submitted within the last 7 years in your local area to inform you of current or future developments that could influence your enjoyment and use of the property. This report is an overview of the area, and you should further investigate any applications that could affect you.

1. The ID number shows the application on the map.
2. This is the application number and should be quoted when contacting your local planning department. If this shows 'Potential Development' instead it is indicating a tender or contract. This records potential development that has not yet resulted in, or required, a planning application.
3. This gives you a bearing to find the application on the map quickly.
4. This shows how confidently we have been able to plot the location on a map using the application details. Good means the application has sufficient detail to identify the exact site of the application. Fair means we have been able to identify an adjacent site e.g. the application address may be 'Land adjacent to No.1'. Approx means the address details only identify the road of the application. Wider Area means only the general vicinity of the site can be identified. Multiple Sites refers to development on more than one site.
5. This is an indication of the development size.
6. This is the contact reference of the local authority. See Next Steps.
7. This is the address of proposed development.
8. This indicates the intended use of the property. A list of all 'Use Classes' can be found to the rear of section 1. Note that 'Sui Generis' refers to 'Other Uses', i.e. applications where no use class can be defined.
9. This is the date the application was submitted to the local authority. Records may take around 6 weeks from this date to appear in the report.
10. This indicates the type of work associated with the application, for example 'New Build', 'Refurbishment or Repair' or 'Demolition' etc.
11. This is the last known decision as made by the planning authority.
12. This provides a description of any extra information about the planning application.

Applications are often submitted with imprecise or incomplete address details and because of this the locations we use may not always represent a development site's full extent. We endeavour to position applications in the most appropriate location we can, using the address details available to us. If nearby development is likely to significantly influence your choice to purchase the property we would recommend you use this report as a starting point for more extensive investigations.

Next Steps

If you would like further information about a particular planning application please contact the relevant planning authority and quote the application reference. Alternatively you can search for the application within the local authority's online planning database. The authority's details can be found by cross referencing the Contact ID in the application details with the 'Useful Contacts' section at the back of the report.

Useful Information

A planning permission is an approval from your local authority allowing you to carry out some form of development or change to property or land. You apply to your local authority to obtain this permission.

Is Planning Permission needed?

Most changes will require planning permission from your local authority but some forms of development may fall within ‘permitted development rights’ and not require planning permission. The types of development allowed under these rights can depend on your local authority and additional factors such as whether the property is in a conservation area or national park. Common types of permitted development are small alterations and minor extensions to residential dwellings. Information about the types of development allowed under your permitted development rights is available from the Planning Portal (details below) or from your local planning authority (see the Contacts page).

If you are considering any development it is advisable to contact your local planning authority to check if planning permission is required for the intended works. Your local planning authority may also have a useful duty planner service or provide pre-application advice, although there could be a charge for this.

Applying for Permission

If planning permission is required an application is made to the local planning authority. The type of application and supporting information required will depend on the scale of works proposed.

Once an application has been made the local authority may notify relevant parties, such as immediate neighbours, and the application may be advertised locally for a consultation period. Public comments can then be made on the application for consideration by the local planning authority.

Planning Decisions

A planning officer will consider the application and any supporting information and make a recommendation for approval or refusal. Depending on the type of application the final decision may be made by the officer through ‘delegated powers’, or the information could be passed to a planning committee.

The local authority will explain the reasons for refusing any applications. The applicant could then choose to re-submit the application with amendments. The result can also be appealed through the planning inspectorate, however this can be a complicated and costly procedure and would not normally be undertaken without obtaining further professional guidance. Consequently, where an application is listed in this report as refused it may later be granted on appeal. Therefore if an application within this report concerns you we would strongly advise you to find out more from your local planning authority.

Planning applications are usually decided within 8 weeks of the application date, although this can be extended to 13 weeks where the application is large or complex. Unless acted upon a planning permission will lapse after either 3 or 5 years, depending on whether it is an ‘outline’ or ‘full’ (sometimes called ‘detail’) application.

Understanding This Section

Each local authority will produce a series of development plans which outline the desired approach to land use and development for the area. These plans provide an indication of what types of development the local authority might encourage or restrict in the future. In Section 2 we have considered the maps included in development plans and summarised the key designations that apply to your area. You should consider how these could affect you and your property.

Section Overview

We have organised the designations and any related policies into key themes. Each section will show the areas designated on mapping within the development plan and provide details of the document and policy that can be researched for further details.

Some of the information we gather is not mapped as the quality or scale of the source mapping means we are unable to accurately plot these features. These are usually area wide policies or sites captured from general indicative diagrams. These will be shown in the tables as ‘Not Mapped’, however we will provide as much information as we can gather.

Some designations may be captured from the mapping within development plans and not have an associated policy. These will be shown with ‘No Associated Policy’. We provide as much information as we can gather from the mapping.

Section 2a: Housing and Community
For example, policies relating to Housing, Recreation and Education.

Section 2b: Business and Economy
For example, policies relating to Industry, Tourism and Retail.

Section 2c: Resources and Waste
For example, policies relating to Water, Energy and Minerals.

Section 2d: Transport Infrastructure
For example, policies relating to Roads, Rail and Public Transport.

Section 2e: Heritage and Open Environment
For example, policies relating to Green Belt, Conservation and Historic Sites.

Section 2f: Other Sites
For example, policies relating to Mixed Usage Sites and Military Installations.

Next Steps

You can find further information about a policy or designation within the associated development plan. The ‘Summary of Development Plans in Your Area’ page will help you find the document you need.

Each section will provide details of the relevant document, policy (if applicable) and map the information was captured from. The policy number will confirm where in the local authority document further detailed information is available. If, following this, you would like further clarification please contact the relevant authority.

Useful Information

What are Development Plans?

As well as managing development in your local area through the planning application system, your local authority will produce development plans. These will outline the desired approach to land use and development in the area. The plans will aim to address a wide range of environmental, economic and social needs with the overall aim of sustainable development.

Planning applications have to be made in accordance with the policies of the development plan, so these documents are important as they indicate what forms of development might be approved nearby in the years to come.

National guidelines are individually published by the English, Welsh and Scottish governments. These documents outline the government’s view on development and planning policy. They will also provide the framework and requirements local authorities will consider to produce the policies for their area.

National legislation is important as this provides the overall strategy for development. Where a local authority local plan is judged to be out-of-date or insufficient national policy may supersede it, or be a material consideration for any application.

What are Local Plans and Local Development Frameworks?

Local authorities will publish policies and proposals in their development plans.

Older development plans are often known as a Local Plan or Unitary Development Plan (UDP). More recently, after a change in planning legislation in 2004, English authorities started to produce their plans as a series of documents referred to as the Local Development Framework (LDF). An LDF will consist of a series of statutory documents, such as a Core Strategy and Proposals Map. A local authority may also produce a series of non-statutory supplementary planning documents (SPDs) that will provide guidance on specific development topics.

This series of documents may be produced gradually and while new documents are being drafted and approved some policies may be ‘saved’ from an earlier development plan. These will then be replaced as newer emerging documents are adopted. This means that in some areas older development plans may still be considered relevant alongside newer documents.

In Scotland and Wales Local Development Plans (LDP’s) are gradually replacing any older Local Plans and UDP’s.

As national legislation changes, local planning authorities may change their approach to creating development plans. For example, the introduction of the ‘National Planning Policy Framework’ (NPPF) in 2012 has meant that development plans in England are starting to be referred to as Local Plans again, and local authorities are being encouraged to only produce additional supplementary documents where absolutely required.

Neighbourhood Planning

In England, local communities are now being given an opportunity to shape and inform development plans for their area. Parish councils, town councils, or neighbourhood forums can develop a ‘Neighbourhood Plan’ to outline the community’s aspirations. If approved these neighbourhood plans will then form part of the framework for the area and will be considered by the local planning authority for future planning decisions. There is currently no formal equivalent in Scotland and Wales, but local communities are encouraged to participate in discussions concerning local service delivery.

If you are interested in Neighbourhood Plans in your area we recommend you contact your local authority for more information.
Summary of Development Plans in Your Area

This section provides an overview of the development plan documents that are relevant to your area. It will clarify which documents we have considered to produce the report. This section will also list any additional documents we have not considered; you may wish to investigate these independently.

Which Development Plans have we searched?

This report will provide details of development plans published by Local Authorities. We capture plans at ‘deposit’ stage (when a draft plan is submitted for approval) and again when formally adopted. The following documents within the surrounding area have been captured by us.

We will report information taken from maps within these documents if policies and designations are found within the search distances we have used for each section.

Each development plan will also contain detailed explanations of various policies and proposals for the area, some of which are likely to be unmapped and so will not be included in this report.

Other Documents in your Area

Alongside the main development plans we summarise there can be other documents that have been published that may also be relevant to your area. This may also include plans that are still being prepared, or that have very recently been published, and therefore have not yet been considered by us.

If a document appears on this list it does not necessarily mean that your property is directly affected by the plan, but that your property is considered to be within the area the document covers. These could be documents such as area wide strategic plans or guidance statements. You may wish to research these documents independently.

Section 2e: Heritage and Open Environment

The tables below provide information about the policies and designations within your area that relate to Heritage and the Open environment. For example, this could include conservation areas, the Green Belt and Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONBs). Specially designated heritage areas, or areas with heritage polices, can sometimes have associated development restrictions or conditions. There can also be restrictions to development if you live near a site with an environmental designation. These restrictions can be of value to residents as they often aim to enhance and preserve the character of the area. However, if you are planning to alter or develop your property in the future, it would be prudent to check any impacts.

Section 2f: Other Sites and Boundaries

The tables below provide information about the policies and designations within your area that relate to ‘Other Sites’. This includes areas that have been identified for mixed use, or for more general development and regeneration.

This section also provides details of any designations in your area we have captured as ‘boundaries’. These are designations indicating the limits of a particular defined area. For example, a settlement boundary will generally show the area that, for the purpose of the development plan, forms a particular settlement (e.g. a town). This might be used when forming or explaining policies, e.g. policies could reference that development within a settlement boundary may be preferred over development outside a settlement boundary.
